

Below represents a synopsis of emails that the FPPC received on the topic below. The amount of comment letters is too voluminous to post each. The FPPC has not changed the language in the body of the email and posts the substance of the letter below for ease of use.

Subjects(s):

Say No to the Special Interest Shopping Spree*

Too much money in politics now!

Number of Emails: As of December 6, 2010 10:20am – 59

Body:

I am writing to express my concern over the recent Political Reform Act Task Force discussion about raising contribution limits for statewide races. The amount of money in politics is already overwhelming. It is dangerous when people believe that our government is simply up for sale to the highest bidder.

I am writing to ask you to change course: Do NOT recommend an increase in the amount of dollars candidates can raise from any one entity.
